

READ & REVOLT

An ongoing reading group that discusses texts analyzing this society and the potential for liberation from an anarchist perspective

Hosted at Boxcar Books the first & third Tuesdays of each month starting at 7 PM

Free, all ages welcome

For September and October we will be honing in on anti-blackness, where it fits in to perpetuating this society, what it does to both those who suffer from it and those who are privileged by it, and resistance both historically and in present day.

By sharpening our ideas, we hope to better fight against racism and this monstrous society that it is deeply woven into.

A free printout of each text will be available at Boxcar Books for two weeks prior to its respective discussion. They can also be found online at readandrevolt.noblogs.org or via a search engine.

9/5 - "Democracy, Disposability, and the Flint Water Crisis" by Third Coast Conspiracy

9/19 - "Eating the Other: Desire and Resistance" by bell hooks

10/3 - "A Very Short Introduction to Afro-Pessimism" by Isidore

10/17 - "The Dragon and the Hydra" by Russell Maroon Shoatz

Boxcar Books, 408 E. 6th St. | 7 - 9 pm | All Ages Welcome